

12/6/17

Hello everyone,

As you are aware, the college has been closed the past two days due to the fires in the area and we will not meet for class today, the last day of semester. This closure greatly impacts our course materials that were to be covered today. As a result, I am making the following changes to the end of semester exam materials and schedules. Please note these in your preparation for the final exam and let me know if you have any questions.

1. The lab final exam (originally scheduled for today) is cancelled, and its points will be made up by prorating lab exams 1 and 2 and the lab reports. As a result, be sure to complete the report for the last lab experiment (Exp 22) and turn in by Monday 12/11/17. A lab report guide for this experiment is available online at our class page on Profpaz.com.
2. The lecture final exam is scheduled for Monday 12/11/17 at 12:30 pm in CMS 236. This exam will only cover chapters 9 and 10 since we did not get to meet and discuss any of Chapter 12 materials.
3. The exit tickets distributed in class (Resonance structures and Bonding theories) and due this week, can be turned in to my office when the college opens tomorrow till the beginning of the final exam on Monday 12/11/17. Additionally, I will post the last exit ticket for Chapter 10 online on our class page on Profpaz.com. This exit ticket will also be due at the beginning of the final exam.
4. All exit tickets collected will be graded on basis of 55 points and will add to your quiz grades currently earned in class (95 points) to make a total of 150 points as described in the syllabus. Be sure to complete these and turn in on the assigned date and time.
5. I will be on campus on Friday, 12/8/17, beginning at 10 am till 2 pm if you want to visit my office and ask questions. The tutoring center is also planning to schedule study workshops for Chem 101 to prepare for the final exam. Check their schedule with the tutoring center directly.

Although this unexpected disruption has impacted our class, I am hoping that these changes make the studying for the final exam more directed and as a result more successful.
